How the Plan Works

Clients must be an inpatient for at least 24 hours to collect benefits

Rates are based on application date, not effective date

A benefit period begins when the client is confined to a hospital for at least 24 hours

The benefit period ends when the client hasn't been hospitalized for 60 consecutive days

The plan will either pay benefits for hospital confinement or an observation stay — not both

Pet boarding must be provided by a licensed facility and clients will need to provide a receipt for reimbursement

Coverage Example

Sue's Medicare Advantage plan has a $300 per day inpatient hospital copay for days 1 through 6. Sue's covered hospital stay lasted 6 days. Her Medicare Advantage copay was $1,800 ($300 copay x 6 days). Fortunately, Sue had the Hospital Protection plan to help with expenses. The plan paid her a $300 cash benefit for each day she spent in the hospital, totaling $1,800.
